1998 "Winning" Case

Lockheed Litigation Cases, Judicial Council
Coordination Proceeding, 2967
(Super. Ct., Los Angeles)

The law firm of Girardi | Keese has spent its legal life assisting those who have been harmed by bad conduct of others. It matters little if the bad conduct refers to defective tires, harmful drugs, or inappropriate stock manipulation, drugs for the benefit of the privileged and the loss to the average person. The firm points to great success not only for the compensation their clients have obtained, but perhaps more importantly, the long term results of preventing future similar problems.
